

The Mars Hill Network considers the churches, business and ministries throughout our broadcast region to be a partner at sharing the Good News of Jesus Christ.

The Mars Hill Network relies on gifts of support from its listeners. Listener support is our number one source of revenue.

You can also help in our mission by asking us for promotional material and making it available to those around you, and to your church family.

May God richly Bless you for listening and praying and for simply telling others about the Mars Hill Network.

Annual Tax receipts for monies received / postmarked January 1 to December 31, are mailed in January unless otherwise requested.

While most of our Friends' support comes through personal checks or credit cards through our secure website, some of you may be considering the liquidation of securities with proceeds being donated to Mars Hill. Although this approach re-sults in a federal and state tax exemption for the amount of the donation, the donor will be liable for the tax consequences of any appreciation in the value of the securities. In the case where securities have long-term capital gains, a preferable alternative is to donate them directly to Mars Hill. Doing so will provide a tax deduction for the full value of the secu-rities, but may eliminate any tax liability for their appreciation. Please consult your financial adviser for tax considerations in your personal situation.

HOPE IN THE JOURNEY

Rome: Your radio station helps me a lot with my walk with the Lord...I like all the programs, even the children's shows. I grew up poor in Korea. We had no radio or children programs of any kind. This is why I like all that your radio station has to offer.

Canandaigua: I want to thank you for your radio station 102.9 FM. I had a heavy heart after losing my best friend to cancer and your station, through music and uplifting messages, helped me so much.

Perth Road, Ontario, Canada: When we rise each morning your radio station WMHI 94.7 FM is tuned on, one radio in our bedroom, another in the living room downstairs and another out in the garage. The radio in the garage is there for all who enter our yard and it is turned on 24/7, even the nocturnal animals receive a blessing from God.

Jamesville Correctional Facility: I praise God for the Mars Hill Network! The preaching and songs have been so uplifting. I'm listening as I write this and just heard my friend Valerie talk about Jesus saying, "Peace be Still" and the power and peace our Lord provides! I praise God for the Mars Hill Network!

NEW SLETTER

OFFICIAL PEAK PARTNER

SPRING/SUMMER NEWSLETTER 2023

Wayne Taylor, General Manager
Mars Hill Network...Proud Accredited Member of NRB!
Dear Mars Hill Ministry Partners,

As some have speculated, certain people and people groups would like to see Christian radio content be strictly regulated by the government. Some even would prefer that Christian radio stations operating on FCC issued licenses would actually be shut down, due to what is now commonly known as "hate speech". This may be coming our way if things continue to progress culturally as anti-Christian.

Though we know of no valid organized effort to regulate or remove Christian radio per say, it is highly probable that the day will come when Christian broadcasters will face either compromising the teaching of God's Word, or losing guardianship of a radio license.

The Mars Hill Network can proudly say that we are an accredited member of National Religious Broadcasters Association (NRB). NRB looks after the welfare of the Christian broadcasting industry in the United States. They offer numerous resources to each affiliated station, and monitor current FCC regulations, as well as music industry regulations that may greatly affect Christian radio. They offer legal representation regarding issues that may threaten the future of the Christian broadcaster's First Amendment rights.

Our ongoing membership with NRB is just one of the many ways your contribution to the Mars Hill Network is used. Our affiliation with NRB helps to ensure that our First Amendment rights will not be inhibited.

Once again, thank you for your generosity, making it possible to proclaim the gospel throughout upstate NY and southern Ontario Canada today, and God willing, in the days, months, and years ahead.

Courageously Serving Christ...with you,

Wayne

Program Selection...How Mars Hill Network Does It!

Programming heard on the Mars Hill Network does not fall into the "a dollar a holler" category, that's for sure. Programs aired on MHN are first very carefully vetted. Research is not limited only to accurate Biblical content, but on the Christian character of program producers and their featured preacher-teachers.

Programs that have been submitted for consideration are evaluated over a period of time with prayer and discussion. Programs are chosen based upon Biblical accuracy, what the program will provide spiritually to the radio audience, clear verbal presentation of content, and ease of listenability. Credence is given to production quality as well.

The Mars Hill Network Program Committee consists of a number of Mars Hill Broadcasting Board of Director members, along with the general manager of the network. This committee assures that no one person determines what is to be included in our broadcast schedule, guarding against personal likes, dislikes, or secondary doctrinal issues.

The Mars Hill Network invites listeners to comment on our program lineup by simply emailing us or calling us at our ministry offices. We carefully consider your input.

And...that's how it's done!

Now, Face to Face...a Studio Upgrade

We're thankful for God's provision to upgrade our Production Room #1, we at Mars Hill call it, "Prod.1". Prod.1 was last updated in the early 1980's. At that time we were still using turntables and tape machines for our primary production means. Times change, and with that change came digital audio. Turntables were replaced by CD players, mini-disks, DAT tapes, and finally digital computer storage and "flash/thumb drives". New production studios are simply hard audio boards, mics and computers, with audio boards most likely disappearing in favor of virtual audio boards in the near future.

How blessed Mars Hill Network is to have a skilled, in-house engineer as a full time staff member. Mike Dwinell not only maintains all of our radio outlets throughout the state, but works with IT issues as well. Mike's expertise in studio design allowed us to upgrade our main Control Room a few years ago, and those skills greatly facilitated our Prod. 1 upgrade. Along with a seasoned tradesman, and help from our part time maintenance person, Mike was able to see his blueprints come to life.

Prod.1 boasts a comfortable studio setting with lots of versatility. Face to face interviews are made so much simpler, something that our old production studio was not designed for. Grateful we are to be able to utilize the gifts God has provided through many of our radio partners, helping to produce a better audio product...all to the glory of God.

Women Walking the Journey of Life...Together.

Navigating Christian Womanhood (NCW) video production was introduced this past year as an important part of our online Summit Workshop series. This 20 to 30 minute talk program, fittingly hosted by MHN staff member Sonya Hines, is designed to reach women in every aspect of life with wisdom from God's Word and Biblical counsel from carefully selected knowledgeable guests. Previous NCW topics include: women counseling women; mental health; physical health; careers and caring for aging parents with new "women relevant" releases every other month. You can find Navigating Christian Womanhood on YouTube; Facebook and at our website, marshallnetwork.org.

One North Expands Video Horizons

Mars Hill Networks digital media branch, One North, is expanding its ministry outreach by incorporating enhanced video platforms, and populating its social media platforms & website with more in-house video content.

Teddy Caputo, Mars Hill's Director of Digital Media, continues to research upgraded video exposure possibilities as well as improving our One North video facility making it more versatile for future productions.

Services offered by One North Media other than in-house Mars Hill productions include, creating promotional informational videos for churches and Christian organizations, musical artist video presentations, and producing video advertising shorts for non-profit organizations. One North also serves as a "how to" for the local church and para-church organizations.

Saluting a New Kid's Ministry

Keeping Kids Connected is a grass roots children's ministry that keeps military kids connected with their enlisted parent(s) or caregivers in a fun and effective way.

Mitchell Aguirre, a New York City businessman residing in Queens, was inspired to create this unique ministry that utilizes colorful personalized printed material and online interactive exercises with the goal of staying connected with their parent(s) who often are called away for military duty, or keep ever-changing varied service hours. Children of the military often are in a transient lifestyle, being uprooted from their familiar surroundings, those surroundings that bring a sense of stability to their lives. Mitchell credits his idea to time spent away from his own son while doing a stint in prison for a bad business deal. Mitchell would create stories with hand drawn pictures and mail them to his son as a way to keep a close connection.

Keeping Kids Connected purposely offers children an opportunity to "belong" to a spiritually meaningful, interactive, fun and caring evangelistic ministry, one that clearly proclaims Jesus Christ and God's plan of salvation.

Kids are invited to create a personalized Christian-themed story book online, then receive that quality printed book in the mail. The children submit names of their loved ones, and are able to select people features that may closely resemble family members. This personalization becomes resident in every published story. Each month a new story is sent to those enrolled in the ministry, and is able to be placed in the sturdy storybook cover binder, adding new chapters on a regular basis.

Other activities are routinely featured online, all designed to help the child keep connected with their "away" parent or caregiver.

The Mars Hill Network, as a media partner, hopes to encourage local churches and ministries, especially in the Fort Drum listening area, to adopt Keeping Kids Connected as a part of their mission to military families.
